

Biography of Anna Page

Bright Star Feng Shui

Quite simply put, Feng Shui is a highly effective tool for cultivating an environment in your home and office where positive and nurturing energies flow freely and harmful energies are abated

People who live and work in environments where there is good Feng Shui will have an easier time achieving success.

Anna is Professionally Certified Feng Shui Practitioner who has run her own practice over the past 6 years, at first in the United States and now in Australia.

Anna was trained in the USA studying under several internationally acclaimed Feng Shui Educators and Authors. Having trained in many traditional schools of Feng Shui including Form School, Nine Star Ki, Flying Star, Compass and Bagua, Anna's style is an integrative one. This allows for the identification of the most appropriate remedy or adjustment in each situation.

Anna is a member of the International Feng Shui Guild, strictly abiding by the Guild's by-laws and Code of Ethics.

Her education and experience spans feng shui for the home, for business and for schools and other educational institutions.

By sharing her knowledge through public speaking and during on site consultations, Anna has enabled hundreds of people to enjoy the tangible benefits of applying feng shui in their homes and offices.

Before Feng Shui she worked in the corporate sector for a Billion Dollar company in the US. Anna analyzed business processes and identified procedural improvements for smoother, more efficient manufacturing and distribution. "I outlined changes to the affected people and helped facilitate their transition. I spent hour after hour facilitating change and helping people through the transition." said Anna, describing her role.

"My experience in the corporate world laid a great foundation. I now help people through change and transition towards success in their personal and professional lives. The satisfaction is tremendous," Anna said.
